

SOME OF THE COOLEST CLOTHING TO KEEP YOU WARM THIS WINTER

New Gear

ROCKY PROHUNTER SYNERGY

ROCKY, the giant American outdoor clothing company, is taking on the British angling market with the release of an extensive range of distinctive, technologically-advanced camouflage clothing.

The waterproof, windproof, breathable ProHunter Synergy range, built in BackLand Adrenaline camo pattern, is based on a modern layering principle with all garments capable of being worn independently, or together, as weather conditions dictate. Top features are too numerous to list.

The gear isn't cheap but, as the lads at Rocky say, the best rarely is. As a guide: Synergy jackets cost £129, fleece £58, Gore-Tex boots from £139. Watch out for a more detailed test.
